

HIGH HONORS GO TO JUNIORS

SENIOR TROPHY WON BY LOCAL OARSMEN

Thompson and Bendrodt Rowed
Away From Veteran Racers—
Closing Day of N. P. A. O.

The J. B. A. A. oarsmen will return to the city to-morrow with two splendid victories to their credit, the junior and senior trophies. The victors in both events were C. H. Thompson and J. C. Bendrodt, both Native Sons, the former the son of the well-known pilot of this city, and the latter the son of the late Capt. Bendrodt.

The performance of these two boys who are only 16 and 17 years old, respectively, was regarded as one of the leading features of yesterday's match. The junior double was to have been rowed the day before, but on account of rough water it was laid over until yesterday. The two J. B. A. A. representatives kept their lead with Nelson and Vancouver following in the order named.

With two of the "Big Four," Jesse and Laine, entered in the senior double, the two junior boys thought their work done when they won the race. A change was made in the programme, however, after the senior four had rowed and the senior double was called immediately after it. Phil Austin, after consultation with others of the club decided that the J. B. A. A. should call the winning junior in to compete for senior honors. The boys were hunted up and hurried into the shell to row a race they never expected to compete.

The choice was well made for in rowing parlance they "rowed in" at the head of the procession. Thompson and Bendrodt pulled a steady race throughout and finished in splendid style amidst the cheers of their many friends. Rowing against seniors, with other shells with the noted Goss, of Portland, as one of their competitors, the honor for two mere boys is all the greater. Time and again Goss and his companion from Portland tried to spur ahead, but each time they found the two J. B. A. A. men prepared to go them one better.

Portland again won the senior four. It is acknowledged that they were the best crew on the coast. They showed careful training. Portland had started out, determined to retain the cup. The race was a hard one. Towards the close, Portland pulled ahead, leaving the others in close positions for second. One after the other fell finally finishing practically in a bunch. With very little between them the finish was after Portland in the order named: Vancouver, Nelson, Seattle, J. B. A. A. It is quite evident that the date for the meet comes too early for Victoria and does not allow for long enough training. The crew was in good shape, however, and rowed steadily throughout. The crew which completed this year was moreover with one exception new to senior ranks. With steady practice the members of the club expect to alter the situation at next year's meet. The J. B. A. A. was not represented in the singles. There was a great deal of interest attaching to the race owing to the fact that Goss, of Portland, was understood to have set his heart upon winning and Des Brisay, of Nelson, who got his training in Victoria, was expected to make a strong effort to lift the cup. The race, however, went to Laine, of Vancouver, who the day before had won the junior singles and just previous to this had won the senior four. Laine is regarded as a wonder, being an all around athlete. The friends of Des Brisay, however, hold to the opinion that the race should have been won by the old J. B. A. A. boy and that an error in judgment in steering defeated him. He pulled to close in at one point while leading, allowing Goss and Laine to cut him off and losing the race to him.

In the N. P. A. A. O. regatta this year the J. B. A. A. divides honors with Vancouver. To Victoria comes the trophies for junior and senior doubles. Vancouver gets the junior and senior singles. Nelson won the senior fours. Thus all the trophies come to Canada with the exception of the much coveted Buchanan cup which was won by the Portland senior four.

The distribution of prizes was made last evening at the Seattle theatre, where all the crews had boxes. The presentation was made by Judge Morris, of Seattle.

The visitors speak highly of the attention given them by "Paddy" Hughes, formerly of Toronto. He did all that was possible and it was no fault of his that the arrangements for the races were not what they should have been. It has been decided to hold the regatta next year on Lake Washington again, but arrangements have been made to have all details worked out more satisfactorily.

A number of the members of the J. B. A. A. went over to Seattle to be present at the H. Dallas Holmes, who seldom misses the event, was one of them. He returned this morning, taking the steamer at midnight last night.

The presence of so many Canadians in Seattle, including the crews for the racing races and for the yacht regatta, together with their friends, gave occasion for a grand reunion and a demonstration of patriotism—the flag wherever occasion presented itself.

JAPANESE IN MEXICO.

Many Are Going to Coal Mines While Others Prepare to Enter States.

(Associated Press.)
Mexico City, July 5.—Two hundred and seventy-five Japanese, landed at Salina Cruz on Wednesday. They are headed for the coal mines in the district of Las Esperanzas. Joseph Strand, a Chinese immigration inspector, stationed at El Paso, who arrived in this city yesterday, stated that Japanese are flocking to the border in great numbers and buying tickets from Juarez through to Canada to enter the United States. Instead of going to Canada, it is stated, many stop at convenient points in the United States.

THAW'S TRIAL.

District Attorney Has Agreed to Case Being Heard in October.

New York, July 5.—With the withdrawal by counsel for Harry Thaw of their motion before the Supreme court for an order directing District Attorney Jerome to show cause why Thaw should not have a speedy trial, it is learned that the district attorney has agreed to Thaw's trial in October.

LOCATING SITES FOR WIRELESS

DOMINION OFFICIAL GOES TO CAPE LAZO

C. P. R. Vessels Will Equip With System Which Can Communicate With Government Stations

This morning Cecil Droure, superintendent of wireless stations for the Dominion government, left Victoria on his way to Nanaimo. From there he will go to Comox and investigate the conditions in the neighborhood of Cape Lazo, where it will be remembered a wireless station will be erected.

Yesterday Mr. Droure was engaged in making investigations about Victoria and among other places he visited was Shotbolt's Hill. Although he has not yet definitely announced that the Victoria station will be situated there, it is highly probable that this will be the site.

There are at present on the coast a number of Marconi agents who are in communication with the various steamship companies with a view of placing the Marconi system on the vessels. As before stated in the Times the Marconi company does not allow intercommunication with other systems, and with the exception of the Camosun, which is now being installed with the Marconi, it is very unlikely that any other vessel will be equipped with the system on this coast.

The system is being installed more for the purpose of guarding against shipwrecks and ameliorating the conditions in case of disaster than from a commercial point of view. On this account, therefore, it is highly desirable that every vessel on the coast should be able to communicate with the government stations equipped with the Shoemaker system.

In this respect the C. P. R. is awaiting developments. Although no contract has been entered into, the railway company had intended to install the Marconi system on this coast. The government deciding upon the Shoemaker system has, however, altered the plans of the C. P. R., which is now awaiting such time as some definite pronouncement will be made by the Marconi company with respect to intercommunication. As Capt. Troop stated yesterday there is no hitch in the plans of the company, and he has not been informed of any change with respect to the installation of the wireless.

CLASH BETWEEN RIVAL FORCES

ONE MAN KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED

Trouble Over Railway Right of Way in Alaska Leads to Bloodshed

(Associated Press.)
Seattle, Wn., July 5.—A dispatch to the Post-Intelligencer from Valdez, Alaska, says:
"One man is dead and another fatally injured and nine seriously wounded as a result of the first conflict between the Guggenheim and Bruner interests at Katalla on Wednesday."

"The fight is over the right of way which the Bruner forces are protecting. The Guggenheim interests stationed detachments of armed men at points commanding the disputed ground early in the day."

"Tony Depascat, in charge of a party of laborers, started out to lay a track over the Bruner right of way under cover of fire from these camps. A brick fire was opened from the Bruner camp, but Depascat succeeded in capturing the steel 'go devil'."

"Representatives of the Bruner interests are making every endeavor to have Governor Hoggatt order troops to the scene of hostilities."

SEEK REINSTATEMENT.

San Francisco Carmen Admit They Had Wrongfully Gone on Strike.

San Francisco, July 4.—After spending several days in examining the papers covering the events preceding the car men's strike, the ways and means committee of the labor interests yesterday called upon President Calhoun of the United Railroad.

As a premise to further negotiations, the committee asked that the car men's strike be ended, and the committee pleaded for two hours with Calhoun not to decree the death of the union by refusing its recognition. Calhoun told the committee that his attitude toward the union was unchanged. The committee threatened the railroad with a conflict in which all organized labor would engage. Calhoun replied that he had never sought nor shunned a conflict.

During the meeting some of the committee, which is composed of the leading local labor leaders, excoriated the officials of the car men's union for their action in calling a strike. P. H. McCarthy, in the name of organized labor, repudiated the action of the car men's union, yet pleaded that the car men's union be not destroyed. He admitted that the union should be punished, but held that death was too severe for the organization.

SWEPT BY TORNADO.

Wisconsin Village Almost Completely Destroyed—Two Persons Were Killed.

La Crosse, Wis., July 4.—Reports from the district east of La Crosse, swept by a tornado last night, show at least two persons were killed and one fatally injured at Oakdale, and the damage was much greater than at first reported. The storm was most severe in the vicinity of Oakdale, on the Milwaukee road, and Warren's mill and Millstone, on the Omaha railroad. Oakdale, population 500, was almost completely swept away. Only one building, the station of the St. Paul railroad, was left standing. Every building in the village, and the houses scattered north and south, was either torn down or shattered and several persons, in addition to those mentioned, are reported seriously hurt.

Rescue parties went from Tomah, Black River Falls, Camp Douglas and other towns near the path of the tornado, but casualties have not been reported from all sections. Wires are down and communication is possible only by train.

FIRE IN SEATTLE.

Seattle, July 5.—Fire of unknown origin yesterday damaged the warehouse and stock of the Grote-Rankin Company, Railroad avenue, between Atlantic and Connecticut, to the extent of $25,000. The fire was discovered on the first floor, near the centre of the building. No one was in the building at the time, and the fire was obliged to break in doors and windows in order to reach the fire. The flames burned through the east side of the building and through the remaining two floors to the roof before it was subdued. The building was filled with a general line of household furniture.

AMMUNITION AND GUNS SEIZED

BIG SHIPMENT WAS INTENDED FOR FINNS

Mob Which Attempted to Rescue
Poisoners Fired on By Troops—
Five Killed.

St. Petersburg, July 5.—The Novoe Vremya declares it has learned from an official English source that the recent seizure of arms and ammunition which it was intended to smuggle into Russia totaled 90,000 rifles and several million dollars' worth of ammunition. All this war material came from Germany and was reshipped via New-Castle.

The size of the shipment, the paper says, is taken to indicate that the purchasers are Finns, as none of the Russian revolutionary organs is sufficiently wealthy to operate on this scale.

The Novoe Vremya for a long time past has been sounding the alarm of secret armaments in Finland.

Seven workmen were arrested in the town of Groenaya, in the territory of the Terek. A mob thereupon made an attempt to release them and this led to interference by troops, who fired a volley into the crowd, killing five persons and wounding many others.

The government is showing feverish activity in pushing the distribution of the 25,000,000 acres of crown, state and peasant land, which it has decided to distribute in average lots of twenty-five acres to individual peasant settlers on easy payment terms in order to make a showing before the convocation of the new parliament.

Four of the participants in a pawnshop robbery here June 12th have been tried by court-martial and condemned to be hanged.

TAFT TO VISIT CANADA.

(Associated Press.)
Military, Mass., July 5.—Secretary of War, H. Taft, of the war department, who is expected to visit Canada, left yesterday for Manchester-by-the-Sea, from Manchester he will go to Murray Lake, Canada, to join his family.

FURNISHINGS OF THE NEW EMPRESS HOTEL

Mrs. Hayter Reed Was in City Making
Preliminary Investigations—Delay in Opening.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Gordon, the former of whom is to be the manager of the new C. P. R. Empress hotel in Victoria, Mrs. Hayter Reed has arrived in the city. Mrs. Hayter Reed is the wife of Hayter Reed, the superintendent of the C. P. R. hotels. The party left for Vancouver this afternoon on board the Chatter.

Mrs. Hayter Reed has been here making some preliminary investigations in connection with the furnishings of the new Empress. Nothing decisive has been done up to the present as it is impossible to commence work until such time as the power plant has been connected with the building and it is possible to heat and air the edifice throughout prior to the installation of the furnishings. This cannot be done until another month has passed and in the meantime Mrs. Hayter Reed is turning her attention to the Hotel Vancouver where considerable alterations are necessary in the furnishings. She will return here in three weeks' time and will superintend the work of the painters and decorators in order to eventually secure from the East the furnishings which will harmonize with the ornamentation work in the building.

Mrs. Hayter Reed states that the furnishings will not be of a sumptuous character, although they will all be of the best material. In common with the other powers that be, she cannot even venture to suggest a date when the hotel will be finally opened. From the difficulties which are experienced in the matter of labor and other conditions, it is highly unlikely that the Empress will be open to the public until the end of September.

Mrs. Hayter Reed has had a very wide experience with respect to the hotels of the Canadian Pacific Railway throughout the Dominion. She takes a keen interest in the work attached to the selection of furnishings and some idea of the assembly which she installs into her work can be gauged by the fact that when the hotel at Winnipeg was under construction she camped right on the ground and personally overlooked every detail. It is highly probable that she will follow suit when she returns to this city in three weeks' time.

Mrs. Gordon, the wife of the new manager of the hotel, is a sister of Mrs. Hayter Reed and both of these ladies have charming personalities. One witness in a motor-car scorching case at Herford said the car passed like a flash of lightning, another that it went by like an express train, and a third compared its flight to that of a shot from a gun.

THE SITUATION IN INDIA IS GRAVE

DISCONTENT SPREADS AMONG LAND OWNERS

Many Tales of Lawlessness—Rural Police Powerless—Europeans Go Around Armed.

(Associated Press.)
New York, July 5.—A London dispatch to the Sun says that Indian discontents represent the trouble in India as increasing.

A correspondent who has returned to Calcutta from three tours of the most disaffected districts in Bengal telegraphs that the seriousness of the situation is hardly realized by the European in India or at home. The discontent has spread among the land owners and the Bengal aristocracy as well as among the peasants and coolies.

An active organization known as "The National Volunteers," which has branches in almost every town and village, is being trained in archery and sword exercise by the well paid instructors. They preach everywhere revolt against the British and actively push the boycott of British goods. Men who cannot be threatened and who still maintain relations with English officials are punished by a racial boycott, the deadliest weapon that can be employed against a Hindu.

Tales of lawlessness and oppression by "The National Volunteers" come from every district. The rural police are too weak or too disaffected to take action.

People are gradually losing respect for order and authority. Several landowners have usurped executive and administrative powers by implementing tenants.

In the Barisal district, committees of public safety have been formed. These committees hold judicial inquiries, summon witnesses and punish offenders. The government has exhausted its resources of police and has borrowed companies of Gurkhas from Assam, and military police from other provinces. These are posted in small batches about the country but are unable to prevent the persecution of loyalists.

The worst feature of this situation is the growing numbers of assaults on Europeans. Europeans go around armed with revolvers and carry shot-guns in trains. Ladies are afraid to travel on the Assam-Bengal railway. A traffic officer said there was danger of certain sections of the line being closed, owing to the reluctance of guards and drivers to take the trains out.

The impression is gaining strength that fire-arms are filtering into eastern Bengal. All over Bengal national schools, financed entirely by Bengalees and disclaiming all connection with the government, are springing up. Students in the government aided colleges in Calcutta are openly defying the recent government circular prohibiting students from attending political meetings. Students not only address the meetings, but implore reporters to mention their names in the newspapers.

OREGON FIELD.

One Man Instantly Killed and Another Injured.

Portland, July 4.—A special to the Oregonian from Wasco, Ore., says:
A fatal shooting affray occurred Tuesday at John Day Ferry, fifteen miles east of Wasco, in which John Freeman was instantly killed and W. G. MacDonald badly injured. Principals in the affair were R. S. Ward, John Freeman and W. G. MacDonald, a prominent farmer. It appears Ward attacked MacDonald and struck him over the head with a spade, inflicting severe but not fatal injuries. A shot was then fired which killed Freeman. It has not been learned who fired the shot. Bad feeling has existed between Ward and MacDonald for some time, and Ward made threats here yesterday. Sheriff McCoy has Ward under arrest and taken to jail at Moro.

WOMEN ARRESTED.

Accused of Attempting to Incite Rebellion—Appeal to Diaz of No Avail.

New York, July 5.—Mrs. Maria De Ruiz Sandoval, of Mexico, whose husband, Gen. Francisco Sandoval, is now with the army of Guatemala, announces she has received a letter from her sister, Isabel De Ruiz, a resident of the City of Mexico, stating she, with about sixty other Mexican women of high degree, have been imprisoned there on the charge of attempting to incite a revolution.

The sister says the women are all confined in small, dirty cells in Belas prison, and are treated as common felons. The prisoners are not allowed to see anyone and a trial has been denied them.

Appeals to President Diaz, the writer says, have been of no avail, and she hopes some of the people of the United States will call attention to the unjust treatment meted out to them.

THREE MEN DROWNED.

Lost Their Lives Through the Capsizing of a Canoe.

(Associated Press.)
Bangor, Maine, July 5.—By the capsizing of the canoe in St. Croix lake, near Howe Brook, Arrowstock county, yesterday, three employees of the Fish River Lumber Company were drowned. The victims were Fred Logan and T. Hillyard, of St. John, N. B., and Chas. Gough, of Fredericton, N. B.

THE HAYWOOD TRIAL.

Defence Preparing Way For Appearance of Accused and Moyer on the Witness Stand.

(Associated Press.)
Boise, Idaho, July 5.—The Haywood trial will proceed to-day when the defence is expected to clear up most of its remaining minor witnesses. Wm. D. Haywood or Charles Moyer will be called to the stand on Saturday if the present plans carry and the climax of the defence will then be reached. It is probable that Haywood will be the last upon the stand, and his cross-examination should run well into the middle or latter part of next week.

DECLARE PUBLIC WAS BUNCOED

'FRISCO PAPERS CALL FIGHT A FIASCO

Burns Receives Eight Thousand Dollars and Squires Less Than Five Thousand.

(Associated Press.)
San Francisco, July 5.—Many of the followers of the game whom it cost from $5 to $20 in addition to railroad fare to see Tommy Burns, the Canadian, solve Bill Squires, the "Australian mystery," in the first round at Colma yesterday, left to-day for their homes. There were general expressions of disappointment and disgust among those who had come hundreds of miles to see what they believed would be a finish fight. The morning papers declare that the public was sold again and call the fight a "Fiasco," and the greatly over-rated and widely championed from the antipodes is cartooned as a "Lemon" and "Slizzer."

The gross receipts of the fight were $25,251 and of this amount Burns' share was $8,000, which he was to receive win or lose, and he refused to accept a percentage. Squires' share, on the other hand, was $4,000, and Jeffries received $1,000 as referee. Tom Corbett, who handled the pool room at Colma, estimated that $12,000 changed hands on the fight.

Barney Reynolds, Squires' manager, announced that the Australian lost $13,000.

"Well, we lost our money and have not much to take back to Australia," said Reynolds. "I have done with fighting and fighters. I guess we must have a pretty poor lot of fighters because Squires was the best we have."

ELECTRICAL STORM.

Man Killed By Lightning—Flood in Idaho.

Colfax, Wash., July 4.—Rain, hail and wind swept over the Palouse country yesterday afternoon, doing immense damage to crops and buildings. Nearly all of the Colfax local telephone lines were down, and the long distance service was put out of commission.

A man by the name of Roberts was killed by lightning on the farm of Arthur Howe, near Colfax. The bolt passed through his body and set fire to the hay which the baling crew were trying to save. About ninety tons of hay were burned.

Moscow, Idaho, was almost flooded by a rainstorm which amounted almost to a cloudburst. The rain came with a rush and lasted an hour. More than two inches of rain fell in four minutes. Preceding the rain was a severe electric storm, accompanied by hail.

SHOT IN COURT.

Man Shot Three Times and Killed—No Attempt Made to Arrest Murderers.

Paintsville, Ky., July 4.—While Andy Coburn was listening to an attorney argue a case in the Prestonburg court-house yesterday, Joe Fitzpatrick, it is alleged, walked up behind Coburn and shot him three times in the back, killing him.

Coburn was sitting near the bar and knew nothing of the man's movements until he was shot.

In the panic which ensued Fitzpatrick and a crowd of relatives quietly left the courtroom and went home. No attempt was made to arrest him. Coburn was later indicted upon a charge of killing a cousin of Joe Fitzpatrick and the case was set for hearing this term.

LINEMAN KILLED AT FIRE.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 5.—The main building of the Toasted Corn Flake Company's plant was destroyed by fire. Loss $50,000. Three firemen were seriously injured and a Grand Trunk lineman was killed by adding a live wire while working among the debris.

VICTIMS OF THE FOURTH OF JULY

NINETY-TWO PERSONS KILLED IN STATES

An Increase Over Last Year—The Injured Number More Than Two Thousand.

(Special to the Times.)
Chicago, July 5.—Seventy-two dead, ninety-one probable deaths from locking, one hundred and twenty fatally injured, between seventeen and eighteen hundred seriously injured, several murders and fourteen suicides attributable to the celebration, constitute the total Fourth of July casualties in the United States up to this morning.

Responding to a universal outcry during the last few years for a sane Fourth, hundreds of towns prohibited toy pistols and giant cannons, yet when all returns are in, the total death list will exceed last year's 128.

That the Fourth is getting saner, however, is evinced by figures since 1903 as follows:

| | Dead Injured. |
|------|---------------|
| 1902 | 96 3,983 |
| 1903 | 128 2,061 |
| 1904 | 132 4,994 |
| 1905 | 128 5,208 |

It will be three days before the full returns are in.

Two men in Pittsburgh, Pa., killed themselves to escape the noise.

New York in Lead.

(Associated Press.)
Chicago, Ill., July 5.—The Tribune to-day says: "Thirty-seven men, women and children are dead and 2,163 are maimed, lacerated or burned as a result yesterday's excess of patriotism in the United States."

"The dead number four more than last year—A year ago thirty-three persons were dead on the morning after the Fourth. Unfortunately the death toll will increase day by day and even the late days of August will witness additions to it. Tetanus, that grim aftermath of gunpowder wounds, claims its victims by scores and even by hundreds for weeks after the Fourth."

"New York leads all the cities of the United States in the number injured with Pittsburgh a close second in the grim race."

"The total number injured, 2,163, is under last year's figures which were 2,061."

"The figures show that this year, as last, most of the casualties were due to carelessness. Victims of gunpowder this year stands second in number, but show a marked decrease over last year."

FATAL FIGHT.

Utica, July 4.—While celebrating the Fourth at Yorkville, a suburb of this city, at an early hour this morning, a number of Polish boys began fighting with the result that two of them are now recovering from a serious knife wound.

The fight started in a saloon, and the men were ejected by the bartender. Hostilities were resumed on the canal bank later, where two of the participants, Josef Guskowski and Joseph Szeszel, aged 20 and 24 respectively, were knocked down, thrown into the water and drowned. The bodies of the men were recovered a short time later. The hand of one of them clutped a knife and both were covered with bruises.

Another of the fighters, Tony Milinowski, was thrown into the canal but was saved and is now at a local hospital recovering from a serious knife wound.

ARBITRATOR SITTING.

D. R. Harris is Considering Applications Respecting Victoria West Lots.

This afternoon, at two o'clock, the first sitting of Dennis R. Harris as arbitrator in the Victoria West street lines adjustment case was opened. The claimants for compensation in respect to the proposed changes in block Q are being heard to-day and the remainder of the claims will be taken up in whatever order the arbitrator decides upon.

There are, in all, fifteen claimants for compensation, the names having been previously published in this paper. Although no difficulty is anticipated in satisfactorily settling all the claims, it is possible that the arbitrator will act upon the request made to him by the city council through the city solicitors to state a case in the court in respect to the city's liability to compensate in certain specified cases. At a recent session of the city council the question came up, in a report from the city solicitors, as to whether the city was bound to pay compensation to those property owners whose lots are crisscrossed upon the streets, not only of the Ralph map, which the arbitration will validate, but also upon the streets defined by old Nagel plan. The solicitors stated that, in all probability the city would be exempted from paying compensation in regard to such lots and a resolution was passed by the council instructing the arbitrator to state a case in the Supreme court. No legal action will be involved by this procedure, as the solicitors point out, while a decision on the point in question in connection with any one case would greatly facilitate the arbitrator's work in dealing with similar cases.

BUSTER BROWN.

Accompanied by 700, He Will Hold Reception at McCandless Bros. & Cathart's Store.

A novel and interesting attraction is booked for July 9th, when Buster Brown and his dog Tige, the two characters which have convulsed America with mirth for so long over their doings in the illustrated papers, will appear in the flesh at the store of McCandless Bros. & Cathart, Johnson street, and hold a reception. Buster Brown is impersonated by Major Roy, representing the Brown Shoe Company, of St. Louis, U. S. A., and his life-like and pleasing characterization of the incorrigible maker and breaker of resolutions is something that will appeal to adults as well as the young folk. As an advertising agent for the Brown Company's shoes and other goods, Buster should prove as successful as he has done in the role of comedian for young and old who read the daily papers.

IS FAVORABLE TO IMPROVING ROAD

Committee Waited Upon Hon. R. G. Taitow Who Promised to Have Report Prepared.

This morning a deputation representing the board of trade, accompanied by the city members in the legislature, waited upon the acting premier, Hon. R. G. Taitow, with respect to the new road sought to avoid the objectionable climb over the Sooke hills now made necessary on the main road of Vancouver Island. The deputation consisted of C. F. Todd, who acted as chairman, C. H. Loggin, J. Nelson, F. A. Pauline, J. A. Mara, president of the board of trade, F. E. Elworthy, secretary of the board of trade; H. Cuthbert, secretary of the Tourist Association; H. B. Thompson, M.P.P., P. Davey, M. P. P., and H. Behnken, M. P. P. With Hon. Mr. Taitow was F. Gamble, of the works department. The deputation urged that steps be taken with respect to the solution of the road problem from Goldstream to Mill Bay. Messrs. Todd, Loggin, Pauline and Thompson all spoke strongly in favor of this step, urging that the matter be dealt with with all expedition. It was pointed out that the great climb over the Sooke hills practically isolates the city from the rich farm lands of the upper part of the island. Nanaimo's population was most strongly in favor of the road and in view of the great increase in the population the island anticipated in the near future, it was of great importance and the road should be constructed as soon as possible. As this divide would certainly prove a great drawback to the commercial welfare of the island. On the other hand, if this road were constructed there would be a beautiful strip of country opened up for settlement and to the raising of crops.

Information was received from an engineer who had made a survey for the Victoria Motor Club. He stated that the present road reached a height of 1650 feet and that a new road could be built following the benches for about $25,000. Even if the present road was graded the great precipitation and heavy snowfalls prevalent in this district during the winter months would render traffic almost impossible and it was shown that the best way of overcoming the difficulty was to construct the road closer to the inlet.

Hon. Mr. Taitow was most favorably impressed with the proposal and he informed the deputation that he was sure that the government would be willing to do their utmost in the matter. He stated that Mr. Gamble, on his return from Vancouver, would make a thorough survey of the district and make a full report on the most feasible manner for overcoming the difficulty.

As soon as the report is prepared, Hon. Mr. Taitow said he would be pleased to meet the committee again.

ARE WANTED HERE

Two Men Alleged to Be Implicated in Burglary Are Being Brought Back.

Chief of Police Langley and Detective Palmer are expected to arrive from Portland, Oregon, to-morrow, bringing with them two men who are wanted for crimes committed in Victoria. Acting under instructions from the chief, the police officers to-day refuse to give any information regarding the men, but it is probable that they are the two burglars who succeeded in getting away from the city with over $400 worth of silk and other goods which they had stolen from the store belonging to M. Nagano, in the Balmoral block.

The officers met the Indianapolis to-day in the expectation that the chief and the detective would arrive with their prisoners, but were disappointed. The chief of police and Detective Palmer left on the Seattle steamer on Wednesday evening and went straight to Portland, which city they were expected to leave last evening.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Cases Laid Over From This Morning to Be Heard Later.

City Solicitor Mann was the prosecutor in two cases of infraction of city by-laws this morning. Dr. A. R. Baker, representative of the Auto Cycle Company, of Vancouver, was charged with selling automobiles and supplies without having taken out a license. J. A. Alkman, who appeared for the defence, stated to Magistrate Hall that he was not prepared to plead on behalf of his client until he had raised three objections to the summons. His objections were that the information had been improperly laid and served; and that no offence was stated in it. He argued that it was not within the jurisdiction of the police court to serve a summons on some one living in another city. Upon the magistrate pointing out that the alternative to the defendant was the issuance of a warrant, this objection was withdrawn.

City Solicitor Mann agreed to the amendment of the information to overcome the other objections, and the case was adjourned until the 12th inst., when Mr. Alkman will plead for the defendant. The case against the B. C. General Contracting Company for refusing to pay road taxes on eight male employees was also called. The defendant, represented by J. Stuart Yates, pleaded not guilty, and the case was also adjourned until the 12th.

MILKING MACHINES.

They Have Proved a Success in Australia—Condition in the Antipodes.

Mr. Moncrieff Scott, government inspector of stock in Queensland, Australia, who is in this city, expressed surprise at seeing a notice in the papers to the effect that the combination machine, well-known as the Lawrence Kennedy milking machine, was being tested in the province as an experiment. This machine, he says, is far beyond the experimental stage. In Australia, where there are similar, if not worse, labor conditions than those existing here, this machine, the combined patent of three different milking machines, has proved itself a great success and in no way injurious to the cows. He has had the opportunity of forming this opinion from his experience as government stock inspector in the Darling Down district of Queensland. In Australia this machine is worked by oil engine. But it makes no difference in the result whether electricity or oil is used.

Mr. Scott considered that the survey system of Australia is superior to that in Canada. He prefers the government purchase is charged up for it when the purchase is completed, he thinks it more satisfactory to all parties.

Taxation in Queensland is becoming a heavy burden upon the people, especially as immigration is virtually at a standstill. On account of the heavy taxes Mr. Scott thinks it better to come to a country where this burden does not exist to an appreciable extent. The sugar industry is virtually at a standstill in Queensland owing not only to the driving of the former Kanaka labor out of the country, but through imposing absurd restrictions on all incoming labor from England. English laborers may come into the country to work on sugar plantations, but there

FOOD AND DRUGS.
Ontario Retail Merchants Urge Government Action to Prevent Sale of Impure Articles.

Hamilton, July 4.—The food standard question was discussed today at the session of the Retail Merchants' Association, and a strongly worded resolution was passed calling on the government to pass a law to protect the public against impure and harmful foods and drugs, and providing for the punishment of people who place on the market compounds and make the public believe they are pure and wholesome medicines. The government will be asked to establish a standard of quality for all spices, condiments, vinegars, baking powder and products, cured or preserved meats, vegetables and other foods and medicines sold under proprietary or trade names.

A vigorous attack on departmental stores was made by Ald. Farrar, of Hamilton, and E. W. Townen, secretary of the association. They accused the big stores of publishing misleading and false advertisements, and also declared that the goods they sold were not always what they represented them to be. Townen also went after the ministers, whom he accused of saying nice things about the late Timothy Eaton because he had left large sums of money to the churches.

The convention decided to ask all branches to make efforts to secure all of the business in their respective localities and thus put a stop to the milk order business. An educational crusade will be started among the farming communities. The meeting expressed its approval of government control of natural forces and commodities.

THE SECOND JURY FAILED TO AGREE

THOMAS COLLINS WILL BE TRIED AGAIN

Prof. Bell Expects to Make Practical Demonstration in Aerial Navigation Shortly

Hope Cape, N. B., July 4.—Thomas Collins, charged with having murdered Mary Ann McCalley, at New Ireland, Albert county, will be tried for the third time in September next. The jury retired at noon yesterday, and at sunset time last night no agreement had been reached. On orders from Chief Justice Tuck, the jury was locked up for the night. This morning the jurors reported at different times that they were not able to reach an agreement, and Chief Justice Tuck summoned them to the courtroom and discharged them.

Prof. Bell's Experiments.
Halifax, July 4.—Prof. Bell has arrived at his summer residence at Baddeck, C. B., and has resumed his experiments with kites designed to support a man in the air. Prof. Bell says that he expects to be able to make a practical demonstration in aerial navigation by August.

Bathing Fatality.
Edmonton, July 4.—A man named Wattles, was drowned while bathing in the Sturgeon river.

Peculiar Accident.
Winnipeg, July 4.—A peculiar accident occurred here this afternoon. Two men were engaged in repairing a gas main, when a boy riding on a bike threw a cigarette stub in the hole causing an explosion in which both men were painfully burned.

Trans-Canada Limited.
Winnipeg, July 4.—The Trans-Canada Limited, the new C. P. R. train, which is the fastest transcontinental train on the continent, making the trip from Montreal to Vancouver in eighty-five hours, reached the city sharp on time and left as scheduled for the Pacific coast. The train was given a magnificent send off. Henri Bourassa, M. P., passed through the city this morning on the new train en route to Vancouver.

En Route to Coast.
Winnipeg, July 4.—Fred Luard, the new British Governor of Hongkong, will arrive in the city to-morrow en route to the coast.

To Hold Meeting.
Winnipeg, July 4.—The members of the National Council of Women, who are en route to the Pacific coast, will reach the city in the morning, and during the day two meetings will be held.

Sudden Death.
Kirkfield, Ont., July 4.—Heart trouble caused the death here yesterday of Duncan Mackenzie, the oldest brother of Wm. Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway. The funeral will take place to-morrow from deceased's late residence to Lakeview cemetery here. He was born in Montreal in 1833.

Million Dollar Deal.
Hamilton, Ont., July 4.—It is announced that the Ontario Nickel Copper Company has been bought by a syndicate and the shareholders, who had considered it a losing venture, will get their money and interest. The syndicate returned from Florida some time ago to put through the deal, and the first payment was made yesterday. A firm of Toronto lawyers paid over $300,000 on account of the purchase money. The whole price is said to be a good deal over a million dollars, and the shareholders will get their money with 5 per cent interest from the time of their investment. Mr. Patterson will get over $500,000.

Experimental Farm.
Toronto, July 4.—The new experimental farm for New Ontario is to be located north of McDougall's chute, beyond the end of the steel.

Interim Injunction.
Toronto, July 4.—Judge Riddell, granted an interim injunction, returning Thursday, to D. P. Piper and W. A. Piper, of London, restraining the Larder Lake Proprietary Goldfields Limited, from dealing with 1,100,000 shares of the company and $150,000 alleged to have been given in exchange for the claims. Plaintiffs allege there was no consideration for shares or money and demand accounting.

Struck Gold.
Kenora, July 4.—A fairly rich gold strike is reported from Mackay's Island, which until recently was under home-ownership.

Bright Outlook.
Toronto, July 4.—A special from Catharines says: "Prosperity and happiness seem to be written in large letters across the Niagara district these summer days, and the great fruit belt presents a sight perhaps unequalled anywhere. The fruit crop promises to be fully up to the average, while prices are high. The great bulk of the Niagara fresh fruit this year will be shipped to the West, a new experiment in the refrigeration system, under the direction of J. A. Riddick, of the department of agriculture being tried."

Story Denied.
Montreal, July 4.—There is no foundation for the statement that Mr. Plummer will retire from the presidency of the Iron and Steel Company. He absolutely denies any such intention. Senator McKee said he could not believe that an effort is being made to remove Mr. Plummer. "If it had not been for Mr. Plummer," he said, "the steel company would have been on the rocks years ago."

Elias Grivell, a Paddington sanitary inspector, who was giving evidence at the inquest on a dead meat case, stated that he was an expert, and was asked to define an expert, declared that an expert was a witness "who goes about from court to court giving evidence in accordance with the monetary consideration held out."

HOSPITALS CROWDED MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From This Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but true fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on these now-white beds are women, and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic aches, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

The following letter should bring hope to suffering women. Mrs. Robert Glenn, of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that I do not need your recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I suffered from female troubles for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound. It was only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. I pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is a daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address: Lynn, Mass.

PERISHED IN BLIZZARD.

Remains of Man Who Died Last Winter Found By Constable.

Swift Current, Sask., July 4.—Constable Snodden, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, returned on Sunday from Gull Lake, where he has been searching for the bodies of the brothers Smith, who disappeared during a blizzard last winter.

Donald Sinclair, a rancher, reported that he found some clothes, and the constable went to the spot, which is in a coulee on Swift Current Creek, about twenty miles southeast of Gull Lake. He found clothing, a ring and other articles by which he was able to identify the remains belonging to Francis Smith, the younger brother. The body had almost entirely disappeared, having been eaten by coyotes, and only the shinbones, kneecaps and hipbones could be found near the spot. The skull was found about a mile away. The constable thought an inquest unnecessary, and ordered the body buried.

No trace of the other brother has yet been found.

GIRL ASSAULTED.

Found in Berry Field With Several Gashes in Back of Head.

Richmond, July 4.—Despite a search kept up all day and last evening the assailant of Miss Lillie Lynn, the 15-year-old daughter of John G. Lynn, one of the best known daymen in the country, has not been captured. He is thought to be surrounded and will be caught before long. The family live about a mile from the village of Melbourne, and the residents of the place are in arms over the fiendish attempt upon the girl. Four or five enormous gashes were discovered in the back of the girl's head, having been inflicted with a stone. There was a report that she had died, but this proved incorrect, though she is in a serious condition.

Alfred Greenhill, an Englishman, who had been employed about the farm about two years, is being searched for by a body of 250 mounted men. He was seen by a party from a berry field where the girl was found, and from which screams had drawn the attention of the family to what was going on. Guilty or not, his flight has made him a hunted man. The pursued man has been sighted by farmers several times, but has always managed to get away. Nothing will be left undone until the girl's assailant is behind the bars.

POWDER SHIP MYSTERY.

Story of Two Ladies Escaping From the Sultan's Harem.

The Petit Bleu, of Brussels, has received from Tunis information which would seem to throw a new and romantic light on the mystery surrounding the destruction of a supposed coast-bound vessel off the Tunisian coast last month.

The vessel was known to have come from Constantinople, and undoubtedly had on board a large quantity of arms and ammunition, but in Tunis it is common talk that the coast-bound was of a very different character to rifles and powder—nothing less, indeed, than two young and exceedingly beautiful ladies who had succeeded in making their escape from the harem of the Sultan of Turkey.

The two ladies are said to have escaped with the assistance of a foreigner of the Christian faith, who accompanied them on board the vessel, pledging his honor that they should not be recovered again to fall into the hands of the "commander of the Faithful." Determined to keep his word, he fired his powder-barrel when it seemed that discovery was otherwise inevitable.

It is further stated that a Turkish war vessel had started in pursuit of the fugitives.

RIOT AT EXPOSITION.

Fight Between Soldiers and Guards in Which Several Men Were Injured.

Norfolk, Va., July 3.—Five hundred soldiers, members of the Second South Carolina and First Kentucky regiments in camp at the Jamestown exposition grounds, to-night ran amuck there, interfering with concessionaires, attempted to take possession of several shows "The Warpath," and when the Powhatan guards intervened, a riot followed, several men being injured.

Earlier in the night some of the soldiers who had been drinking became disorderly and were repeatedly cautioned by the guards. Later, when their number had increased to about 30, they threw aside all constraint and invaded "the Warpath," ignoring doorkeepers, declining to pay admission and refusing to leave the buildings when ordered out. The Temple of Mirth, Beauty Show and Streets of Cairo were the principal sufferers. At the last named place about fifteen Powhatan guards attempted to restore order, but were forced to use their sabres to beat the militiamen back.

Capt. Carpenter and Adjutant Garwood, of the guards, succeeded in clearing the men, but the soldiers soon returned, their number having been increased to 500.

They again attempted to take charge of the shows, refusing to be disciplined. C. C. Hastings, of Company H, Kentucky, and J. M. Thompson, of Company D, South Carolina, were arrested as the ringleaders of the rioting.

The arrests caused a demonstration, and with drawn sabres the guards were forced to fight their way through the massed soldiers to the guard camp. They kept the prisoners despite efforts of the soldiers to rescue them. Behind wire fences of the camp the guards made a stand against the crowd. The soldiers hurled rocks into the enclosure. Capt. Carpenter and Adjutant Garwood were struck. Guard Preas, who saw the man who threw the rock that hit Carpenter, arrested the assailant, whose infuriated friends immediately attacked Preas, beat him and rescued the prisoner.

The rescue was not effected, however, until after the prisoner, Brashear, had been black-jacked by the guards. Brashear was placed in a rolling chair and sent to the exposition hospital. He was later arrested there by the Powhatan guards, but could not be removed owing to his condition.

The guards were later reinforced by detachments of soldiers from the camp and order was restored.

CROP SITUATION.

Heavy Yield Anticipated in Western Canada—Weekly Reports.

Winnipeg, July 4.—Crop reports for the current week from Canadian Pacific points are very variable. Binscarth reports wheat up 24 inches, while other districts are backward, and the seeds are causing much trouble in places. Some districts require rain very badly, while others have more than sufficiency. Although matters are behind hand owing to the season, heavy crops are anticipated.

At Bergen the grain is up 15 inches and doing fine, the weather being good. Rain is badly needed at Rosser, but matters continue satisfactory around Portage la Prairie. Growth is very rapid at Chater. Stabuck crops are two weeks behind last year's growth. The grain will be short, and the hay crop poor if heavy rains do not fall soon at Chater. At Cypress river the outlook is bad, the farmers south and east reporting no rain at all, and the weeds very bad.

In the La Riviere section some of the crops are suffering from lack of rain, notably at Darlington. Altona has wheat up 20 inches and satisfactory weather. Wheat is up eight inches at Niverville, no damage being yet done. Dominion City reports encouragingly, as also does Emerson, where rain has fallen. The district north of the city around Teulon and Stonewall have encouraging reports, but rain is required. A large tract has been denuded by hail near Brookdale.

Growth in the Minnedosa district has been satisfactory, plenty of rain being the rule, and the growth showing 15 inches. Broadview has not so much lacked rain as other parts, good rains being the rule at Alexandria and Crystal. Mossomin crops are doing well, but a little late. Throughout the Yorkton section matters remain good, especially at Binscarth, where 24 inches is seen, and the grain will shoot blades in a week's time. Around Rapid City the crops have been doing splendidly, no damage being reported. Hamilton is behind the crop, like other places. At Neudorf there is abundance of rain. Crops in this country show admirable growth. The Estevan country is also satisfactorily progressing, crops reaching 10 inches in most places.

The blade heads are forming at Rosedale. Sufficient moisture has fallen at Kennedy. In the Arcola and Moosejaw country the crops are showing well.

No Damage By Storms.

Calgary, July 4.—General Superintendent Jamieson's crop reports for the week for Alberta and Western Saskatchewan are very favorable. Fall wheat is forty inches high. There is plenty of rain and sunshine, and no damage by storms. The season is more advanced than at this time last year.

PELL FROM LOG BOOM.

Young Man Starts Work and Meets Death on First Day.

Hogauan, July 3.—Henry Loucks, only son of J. P. Loucks, was accidentally drowned in the Hogauan river this morning while at work on the log boom of the Hogauan Lumber & Shingle Company.

Loucks was only 18 years of age, and had just started working on the boom during the night shift. Not being accustomed to the work, he fell into the river early in the evening, but managed to get to work.

Later he failed to show up, and a search was instituted. His father found his hat floating on the water, which told of his fate. An effort has been made to recover the body, and the searching party is still at work.

The White Horse mill, Chetwynd, B. C., stopped yesterday owing to the failure of its water supply. An examination made, it was found that the pipe conveying the water from the reservoir was choked by an ice, 14 inches in diameter, and weighing 5 lbs.

STRIKE RIOTS.

Several Men Injured During Street Fights in Brooklyn.

New York, July 4.—Street battles between the striking ice wagon drivers and strike breakers, which the police quelled after several of the participants had sustained minor injuries, followed another attempt of the American Ice Company to break the strike in Brooklyn to-day. The appearance of several of the old drivers who had returned to work enraged the strikers who held out. Each delivery wagon was guarded by policemen on its rounds. The presence of officers failed to check the strikers in their efforts to stop the delivery of ice. Twenty strike breakers in Manhattan, employed by the American company, refused to go to work to-day, declaring that they feared they would be injured by strike sympathizers.

UNCLE SAM'S NAVAL POLICY.

Transfer of Battleships to Pacific Only Part of Manoeuvres.

Oyster Bay, July 4.—The probable basis of the world-travelled rumor that a fleet of sixteen American battleships was to be stationed in the ocean which separates the United States from Japan is explained in an official statement made public at the executive offices here to-day.

While not expressly announced, it is intimated that the battleships may go to the Pacific in the near future. If they do it will be only in furtherance of a plan of routine naval manoeuvres. Moreover, it is added that the matter of destination is undetermined, and the fleet is quite as likely to be ordered to the Mediterranean or the South Atlantic as to the Pacific.

"FRISCO MAYORALTY.

San Francisco, July 3.—The announcement by Eugene E. Schmitz that he would be a candidate for re-election to the mayoralty of the city for a fourth term unless his appeal for a new trial is in the meantime denied by the appellate and supreme courts, has raised the question of whether he can legally go upon the ballot.

An examination into the law on this point was made to-day by Assistant District Attorney Robert Harrison, and the tentative conclusion was that the mayor would possess no more significance than the further fact that three or four months later it would be withdrawn from the Pacific. Both would merely be a part of the ordinary routine of the naval administration.

NEW YORK TRAGEDY.

Young Man Accidentally Shot His Aunt and Afterwards Committed Suicide.

New York, July 4.—The sacrifice of life by reckless celebrators of the 4th of July began to-day with the accidental shooting of an Italian woman by her nephew who, stricken with remorse at the death of his aunt, shot and instantly killed himself.

Mrs. Alfonso Fuciarino, wife of an retired Italian contractor, living in the Bronx, and Arthur Caro, aged 19, were victims of a tragedy. Caro was amusing himself by shooting at the brick walls around his home. Mrs. Fuciarino stood nearby watching him when one of the bullets from the wall struck her over the right eye, penetrating the brain, and causing instant death. Overcome with horror the boy instantly placed his revolver to his head and fired, his body falling across that of his victim. Both were dead before witnesses of the tragedy could reach them.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY ON THIS COAST.

A gentleman connected with the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, who is now in Victoria, has been giving interviews in connection with the announcement by the Times a few days ago of the proposal of the Dominion government to establish wireless stations on this coast. These interviews are so worded as to convey the idea that unless the Dominion government comes to the terms of the Marconi people a deadlock will ensue, because of the refusal of the latter's stations to recognize or communicate with stations employing other wireless systems.

No apprehension need be felt, however, on that point. The government stations at Victoria, Pachuca, etc., will be erected just as quickly as workmen can be obtained to build them. When in operation they will, although equipped with the shoemaker, one of the latest and most up-to-date wireless systems, be ready to accept messages from, or transmit messages to, any ship or station which has a wireless system, whether Marconi, De Forest, Masele, or Shoemaker.

The representative of the Marconi Company now in this city has indicated clearly one of the reasons which make it impossible for the government to enter into negotiations with his company. The wireless system about to be installed by the Department of Marine and Fisheries is designed primarily and mainly as an aid to navigation and for life-saving purposes. The Marconi people declare that, while they want the government to use their system and theirs only, they refuse to allow their operators to interchange messages with those employing any other system. Hence if the Canadian government had a Marconi station at Pachuca, and the Pacific Coast steamer President, bound up from San Francisco, signalled Pachuca, the message would be ignored, because the President is equipped with the Masele apparatus. Such a condition would be intolerable and would expose the government to the charge of abetting the most indefensible form of monopoly.

As to the case which the Marconi Company has against the Dominion government for failure to carry out the terms of its contract, the public is not very much concerned. The courts are open to the company in question, and there, and there only, can it obtain the satisfaction it craves. It is not probable that the Federal government would risk the course it has adopted, if, by so doing it would render itself liable to damages. It has as its chief law officer one of the foremost jurists of the Empire, and doubtless his advice was obtained before the present step was taken.

On the other hand, an injunction can very quickly be obtained by the Marconi people, if they have a grievance, and they know, or should know, that if an injustice has been done, redress can be obtained by process of law, and not by newspaper interviews.

The people of British Columbia and of Canada are therefore interested in but one thing, namely, that the Department of Marine and Fisheries has seized boldly on the quickest, cheapest and best way of averting disaster and assisting shipping on this coast, and is proceeding with despatch to put it in operation. If, incidentally, people who are looking for an executive franchise, which if adopted would greatly cripple these aids to navigation, are disappointed, there does not seem to be any real reason for sympathy from the chief beneficiaries—the public.

EDUCATION AND UNREST IN INDIA.

Disquieting reports continue to arrive in regard to disaffection in India. We do not attach great importance to the rumors disseminated by the Associated Press, inasmuch as that institution seems to consider its special office to be the creation of imaginary menaces to the stability of the British Empire. But that there is at least some foundation for the rumors with respect to the aspirations and ambitions of the people of the great British dependency may be assumed from the recent announcement of Lord Morley in the House of Commons that effective measures have been taken by the Imperial government to deal with any crises that may arise. That there is a considerable element of the Indian population which believes the time has come when self-government on a liberal scale should be extended to it is beyond question. Whether the movement is of a character or has attained proportions that can be considered dangerous is another matter. That it is one of the results of the policy of educating the people which was inaugurated immediately after the great rebellion is generally admitted. Whether that policy was a mistake under the peculiar and special circumstances of the case there will naturally be considerable difference of opinion. In the meantime the British authorities are not likely to trouble their heads about theories bearing upon causes and effects; they will deal with conditions as they find them, and it is generally agreed that there is a man at the head of the military system who will attend to such conditions effectively if the assistance of the army of India be required.

The death recently in England of one of the veterans of the Indian civil servants recalls the fact that the policy of educating the natives was introduced immediately after the quelling of the rebellion. It is sixty-one years since Sir John Arbuthnot, the author of the system of education at present in vogue, joined the service in the dependency. From the first his energy and ability made him a marked man, and in 1855 he became the first director of public instruction in Madras. After a long controversy between the advocates of English and of vernacular teaching the former method had been adopted. In each province the work of state education had to be organized. And the three universities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras were founded under his supervision, even amid the tumult of the mutiny. Judged by results, both in numbers and in quality, English education in Southern India has been more successful than in any other part of the dependency. Sir Alexander remained in charge of the Education Department seven and a half years, and was then selected for the chief secretaryship of the local government, with a seat upon the Legislative Council. Lord Napier made him a member of his executive council in 1867, and when the former was suddenly called to Calcutta to fill the vacancy, rendered vacant by the assassination of Lord Mayo, Sir Alexander acted as Governor. He was called to headquarters himself in 1875, when he became a member of the Governor-General's Council. Lord Lytton found him a tower of strength during the troubled years of his viceroyalty, and it was he who held the famous portfolio at the time of severe distress in southern India. He also had charge of the Vernacular Press Act in its passage through the legislature. This measure was repealed by Lord Ripon's government, but the restoration of it to the statute book has been suggested of late, in the light of recent events. He was at different times chancellor of the Madras University, and of the Calcutta University, a unique honor. After his final return to England in the early eighties he was for many years a prominent member of the Council of India.

There is but one opinion in regard to the effect upon the natives as a whole of British rule in India; and there can be but one opinion also with respect to a matter affecting the relations of great powers with their colonies. It is that inferior races, to use a designation void of intentional offence, must undergo a process of education which cannot be obtained in the schools ere they can be considered capable of being entrusted with complete control of their own affairs. There is no question in the mind of anyone conversant with racial conditions in India as to what would surely come to pass if the restraining hand of British authority were withdrawn.

There has just been issued by the Department of Interior at Ottawa an Atlas of Canada, one of the most useful and comprehensive works we have had the pleasure and profit of examining for a long time. The Atlas contains valuable data upon every conceivable subject of interest to the people of Canada. Its tables of population gathered from the last census returns, maps, charts and diagrams relating to the industries, the geological formation, the mineral deposits, the timber areas, sunshine and temperature, precipitation—in short, if anyone desires information upon any conceivable subject, such as trade and commerce, density and distribution of population, currency and banking, manufactures, routes of existing railways, values of fisheries, etc., he can secure it with the least possible loss of time by simply consulting this Dominion Atlas.

The final vital statistics relating to the celebration of Independence Day will not be known for some time. But the efforts of the authorities in most of the large cities of the United States are beginning to bear fruit. The death list is not as large as it was last year. Less than a hundred people were killed, while the number of wounded will amount to about two thousand, many of whom will doubtless succumb to the after effects of injuries from the deadly crackers. The festivities are not yet conducted in as sane a manner as could be desired.

The Colonist weekly whispers that alone it will continue the fight for rail connection with the mainland. Has our contemporary really been deserted by Premier McBride and the supporters of his government who were elected on pledges that they would work and fight for rail connection? If that is the position of affairs, we call it base ingratitude.

ENGINES BROKE DOWN.

The steamer which was sighted yesterday morning from Carmanah in distress was the Ascension, bound from Seattle to Honolulu. News to this effect was brought to port this morning by the steamer Hazel Dollar.

Her engines broke down while she was at the entrance to the Straits, and though many efforts were made to start them it was finally decided to take her back to Seattle where she could be thoroughly overhauled. She was able to reach the Sound under her own steam, conveyed by the tug Richard Holyoke, which put out to her assistance from Astoria.

The coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest upon the body of Samuel Collison, who expired while sitting in a chair at the Lighthouse saloon on Wednesday afternoon, brought in a verdict of death from natural causes. The deceased had been in ill-health for some time previous to his demise, and had been forced to withdraw from the saloon business, in which he had been engaged for a number of years. He is survived by his father, three sisters and one brother. His father resides upon Mayne Island, and for many years was postmaster at Plummer's Pass.
The body of the deceased is now lying at Smith's undertaking parlors awaiting the arrival of the deceased's relatives to arrange the funeral.

SHE WANTS THE REAL THING.

The lady in search of a wedding present knows that when she finds the name "Pickard" on a piece of china that she is getting an article that is genuinely hand painted.

The name "Pickard" is to china painted by hand what the word "sterling" is to silver—the mark of genuineness.
J. W. B. Shakespeare, the Government street Jeweler, has secured control of this product of the famous Pickard studio of Chicago for the city of Victoria. A representative of the Pickard studio is now in the city with about $5,000 worth of samples, which are on display in Mr. Shakespeare's store.
From these samples Mr. Shakespeare is making selections for stock for his fall and Christmas trade. None of these samples are for sale, but everybody who is in any way interested in the art of painting china by hand is cordially invited to come in and see this exhibit.
Saturday night, July 6th, this entire line will be packed up and taken east.

Weber Piano Company, Fifth Ave.
and 54th Street, New York City:
Gentlemen:—As general manager of the Weber Piano Company, I have had an excellent opportunity of observing the practical unanimous preference of the great operational artists for your instruments. In personal conversation, I have so often heard these famous singers express themselves enthusiastically about the Weber Piano, that it has become in the nature of an old story to me. When the standard of piano excellence is under discussion, it is always the Weber that I hear cited as the highest example, because of its peculiarly rich and sympathetic singing quality. When you consider that our company comprises the world's greatest operational artists, you certainly have reason to be proud of this remarkable unanimity.
Such opinions in connection with my personal experience with a Weber Piano in my own home, can only tend to confirm my judgment that we could not possibly have selected a better piano for exclusive use at the Metropolitan Opera House, than the Weber.
Very truly yours,
ERNEST GOERLITZ,
General Manager.

been encountered up to the present. As yet, however, the really hard part of the undertaking has not been approached.
Great hopes are entertained of having the trail complete before the fall. It is certain that by that time it will be in such a condition that during the coming winter, in the event of weeks along the Coast, rescue parties can be dispatched to different points.

MARINE NOTES.

When the Allyn liner Bountar sails from Vancouver for New Zealand next week she will carry a cargo of 6,000 tons. Of this 1,000 tons are oats shipped by the Brackman-Ker Milling Company; a million feet of lumber and 2,500 tons of general cargo.

The steamer Princess Beatrice, Capt.
Hughes, sailed last night for Skagway and way ports, carrying 120 tons of provisions, some for Dawson and the remainder for shipment up the Skeena.
Thirty tons of wireless stores have been shipped to Sitka, Alaska, from the Mare Island yard to W. M. Con-annon, the San Francisco contractor, who is to build a wireless station at that point.

The Admiralty dry dock at Hongkong has been completed and was successfully flooded recently. Warships will not be able to be docked until the pumping stations and workshops are finished in a year's time.
It is estimated that upwards of 3,000 people were carried to and from Port Angeles yesterday by the steamer Indianapolis, of the Alaska Steamship Company.

The tug Lottie sank at Gambiers Island some days ago and she is now submerged at high tide.

Carrying the overseas mail the R.M.
S. Empress of India left Hongkong on June 30th.
The C.P.R. steamer Athenian, west bound, arrived at Hongkong yesterday.
Steamer Hazel Dollar, of the Dollar line, arrived in these waters last night, and this morning came to the outer wharf, where she is discharging a cargo of sulphur amounting to 500 tons, consigned to the Victoria Chemical Works. The vessel has come from Hakodate via San Francisco.

The sailing ship Matterhorn, loaded with a million and a half feet of lumber, from Vancouver for Los Angeles, was towed out to sea last night from the Royal Roads.

Steamer Maude will leave port to-day on her way to Chatham Point with a cargo of material for construction of a gas and bell beacon at Beaver Point.

The steamer Iroquois while backing out from the dock at Seattle on Wednesday,

SPORTING NEWS

GOLF.

AMATEUR CHAMPION.

I do not remember a more popular victory being scored in the amateur golf championship than that which "Johnny" Ball secured at St. Andrews, writes W. L. S. in the Athletic News. His previous five triumphs in the event had all been cheerily hailed, but such a long time had elapsed since he had previously won in 1899, before going to South Africa with the Yeomanry, that many folk had given up seriously striving after championship; and so his victory was appreciated because it was rather unexpected, and because it was the first he had gained at St. Andrews. In the verandah of the Royal and Ancient Club house, after the play, Mr. Leslie Ballfour-Melville, who in winning his one amateur championship in 1895 had been taken to the thirty-seventh green by Mr. Ball, paid the Holyoke man a hearty tribute, and St. Andrews folk, drenched to the skin though they were by following the victor right lustily. He had won at Holyoke and Sandwich, and Prestwick, but he had always longed to acquire honor over the classic course, for, after all, St. Andrews is St. Andrews, and the keenest golfers appreciate successes achieved there. Twice during this visit, Mr. Ball had been the principal figure in great competitions. He had been the one Englishman to win his match in the amateur international on the Saturday previous to the championship, and his form then against Mr. Robb was very good.

But Mr. Ball reckoned little of that achievement. The greater event of the following week was in his mind, and he surmounted one great difficulty when he knocked out Mr. John Laidlaw in the first round. The pair had been opponents, and the great cricketeer as he has been, a golfer had he stuck to the former game instead of making the royal and ancient sport his chief recreation—had had the satisfaction of beating the Royal Liverpool player, both at Prestwick in 1905 and at Holyoke last year. The week's championship, and as long as I live I shall not forget the last hole therein. It settled the tie, but Mr. Ball looked at one time rather like losing when winning it. He had cleared the railway sheds from his drive, but his ball lay in a cart-rut on the road. It took him a long time getting the ball out, but with his mallet he got in a phenomenal shot which carried quite a hundred yards and helped him to win the hole for Mr. Laidlaw was terribly weak.

Another doughty opponent to the Holyoke golfer was Mr. Robert Andrews, of Prestwick, St. Nicholas. The latter in the international and in beating Mr. Hilton—the latter the resurrector of one-handed putting, which an old Scottish golfer from Tayside introduced years ago—had shown fine form. There was a great deal of handiness of iron clubs, and his one-handed putting was declared to be one-yard putts. They had, often been his undoing, and as his elder brother, Mr. J. H. Andrews, said, overnight, "If only Bobbie gets these yard putts down, I have no fear of him," but he did not get them down. Moreover, he was in other difficulties, and really in this tie of Thursday afternoon Mr. Ball had a comparatively easy task, winning 5 to 4. He played steady golf. He waited till his opponent made mistakes, then he snapped up his chances, throwing nothing whatever away.

The final struggle was played in such weather as had never before been experienced in an amateur championship. I have had experiences of downpours on other greens, but the deluge borne on the east wind from the German Ocean was terrible. The two men were drenched to the skin before many holes had been decided, and golf was a matter of exceeding difficulty. The scores approximated high, but that was only natural under the circumstances. The real wonder was that the play was so good as it was. Really it was an interesting, though weary, game. Mr. Ball got a lead at the eighth hole in the morning, he had the match won, for Mr. Palmer could not carry far enough to get a chance in the shorter game. His approaches and his long putts did not run far enough, and he left himself far too much to do on the greens. Thereupon his putting lacked its previous effectiveness. And this in brief, explains his defeat by 6 to 4. I wonder how many people knew of the anxiety of the Holyoke people who followed the game. At the third hole in the morning, Mr. Ball strained his arm and threw his club as he would have done in the afternoon. It served him well enough, for to his lead of two holes on the morning round he had added two holes on the turn, and when it was dorny 5 all was practically over. He had played the better golf, well, as a matter of fact, the best golfer of the great field. And does not such a man deserve the laurels? I think he does.

There were several disappointments, the most notable of which were the early defeat of Mr. Gordon Simpson by the very job of golf, Mr. Ramsay; the latter took 3 1-2 hours to the round, while some of his opponents had taken only one hour. Mr. Ramsay's exaggerated calculations tended towards the unexpected defeat of the young Scot. Mr. Robb also played poorly, and the golf shown by Mr. Byers, the American, was not of the quality exhibited by Mr. Travis in 1904.

YACHTING.

THE CRUSADER LAUNCHED.

The Crusader, Vice-Commodore Frederick Nichols' Canada's Cup yacht, was launched at Oakville last week with the usual ceremony and in the presence of a large contingent from Toronto. Following the launching, Vice-Commodore Nichols made a short speech, in appreciation of Capt. Andrews' work upon the boat, and led by the Vice-Commodore, three lusty cheers were given for the builder.

Amellus Jarvis, who will handle the Adele, also expressed himself in a few remarks, and gave unstinted praise to Mr. Nichols for his persistent efforts to lift the cup.

The Crusader was designed by Fife, but unlike her two rivals, was built in Canada. Her frames were sent out from the Motherland in April, and the task of putting her together was almost immediately begun by Capt. Andrews of Oakville.

The Crusader belongs to the 27-foot class and is smaller in every way than either of the English built boats, and at the same time looks speedier and has a neater appearance. She differs very materially from the Adele and Alleen II. In make up, as the latter two are finished above water in polished mahogany, while the Fife boat is of British Columbia cedar and is painted a simple white and green.

Green below the water line, with a band of green showing above the water line, she is finished from there to her sheer stroke in enameled white with narrow stripes, with a mahogany covering board and cockpit combings, she presents a very trim appearance. A hatch forward, two cockpits and a steering gear for the helmsman constitute the openings in her deck.

While she is smaller than the Adele and Alleen II, the Crusader has a larger keel area and her keel is carried much further forward.

The yacht is very strongly built and very compact, her ribs being 15 inches apart and braced with batten runners from stem to stern. She is very fast, and, thinking out both on the deck and in the bilges. Like the old Fife, Canada's Cup boat, she has a fan tail stern and her body is carried well down into her keel. A little flat forward, she rounds out with a very powerful bilge amidships and sits very nicely in the water.

CANADIAN WINNERS.

The second big race for the Alexandra Cup at St. Nicholas takes place today, and the Canadian yachtsmen have the greatest confidence that the defender will be able to distance her fleet rival.

The honors for yesterday in the Seattle Club's annual regatta were captured by the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club. The 26-foot class, in which there were thirteen starters, was taken by the "Widowmaker," with the "Gwendolyn," of Bellingham, a close second. The Vancouver yacht Minerva was beaten in the 22-foot class; however, by the Barita, of Seattle, in a good race. The wind margin was a little less than eleven feet. The Winona, of Seattle, had an easy victory over the Two Steps, of Bellingham, in the 20-foot class.

LACROSSE.

EASTERN TOUR.

A team, consisting of the best men playing in the British Columbia Lacrosse Association series, will be taken on a tour to Eastern Canada by the "News-Advertiser." The tour will be financed by that gentleman, and the team will leave here about the middle of next month. Arrangements are being made by Mr. Jones will manage the tour and will take thirteen players and a trainer. It is his intention to arrange for matches at all points along the line between the Coast and Toronto. The team will visit Montreal, Quebec and other cities east of Toronto.

It will rest entirely with the players whether the tour is taken. Mr. Jones stated last evening to the sporting editor of the News-Advertiser that he would take the team if the arrangements for the tour could be perfected this month. However, unless the British Columbia championship is decided by the first of next month it is altogether likely that the tour would be postponed for a month or six weeks, or even till next spring, as the players would be unable to get away. The selection of the team would be left in the hands of a committee to be selected by Mr. Jones. All of the clubs would be represented on the team.

and rushed violently at Burns. Then they broke in the centre of the ring and Burns immediately popped over another right and Reuben, who was down again, was up in a second and then Burns swung a succession of rights, each one staggering the Australian until he dropped his arms. Then Burns swung his right again with tremendous force and it was all over.

The fight lasted two minutes and eight seconds. Burns won the toss and chose the northwest corner with his back to the sun.

Jeffries was loudly cheered when he entered the arena. He was suffering from an ulcerated tooth.

There was betting at even money that Burns would not last ten rounds.

The preliminary bout between Murray and Edwards resulted in a draw at the end of the 10th.

Many women braved the gaze of thousands of men and occupied seats close to the ring-side.

BASEBALL.

VICTORY FOR VICTORIA.

Before a large attendance, the local ball players yesterday defeated the Port Angeles nine by a score of 9 to 6.

During the earlier part of the game matters looked kind of bad for the Victoria boys, but it was in the seventh innings that the game was decided.

When the Victoria boys came in to bat in the seventh, the score stood 6 to 4 against them. It was just then, however, that the fun started, and they lined out four safe hits which proved good for four runs, thus leaving them two in the lead.

Although Peden, the big south paw, was somewhat erratic during the first few innings, he received the best of support from his team, and after the seventh innings the Angels failed to find a way to the base. The following line-up: R. Robertson, catcher; Peden, pitcher; Blackburn, first base; Northcott, second base; Shanks, third base; Moore, short stop; Malcolm, left field; Lorimer, right field; McKay, centre field.

CRICKET.

MATCH TO-MORROW.

The Jubilee grounds will be the scene of an all day cricket match to-morrow between the Victoria and New Westminster Cricket Clubs. The game will commence sharp at 10.30 a. m., and the players are requested to be on hand early. Lunch and afternoon tea will be served at the grounds. The following is the personnel of the Victoria team: J. C. Barnacle (capt.), A. F. R. Martin, J. S. McNeill, J. W. D. York, T. H. T. S. A. C. Goward, W. W. Williams, W. G. G. A. B. Irvine, F. A. Briggs, R. Hall.

GAME AT OAK BAY.

The Oak Bay Cricket Club will try conclusions to-morrow afternoon with the Garrison eleven. The game will start at 2.30 sharp at the Oak Bay grounds.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A FRENCH CHAMPION.

A bicycle meet including several events for the championship of the world, was held at the Champs-Élysées in Paris on Sunday. The 1,000-meter race was won by the Frenchman Cevoisieux in 1 minute and 42 seconds. Marshal, also of France, won the five-kilometer event for points, winning seven points.

CURIOUS BELGIAN VILLAGES.

Religious Communities in Which There Are Few Rules.

Those curious Belgian religious communities, each living in a small, walled-in village of its own, are known as "Eugénies." Entering in by the gate, we find ourselves in a court shaded by lofty trees, which impart a shade on the hot day of our visit, writes a correspondent of the Treasury, in describing one of the communities at Bruges. On our right hand and around the court are charmingly attractive, low, white-washed houses, which are the abodes of the Beguines. Opposite, on the left, is the house of the superior, larger than the rest, containing a chapel.

The little houses of the sisters make us wonder what kind of a life is lived within their walls. There is no common refectory. Each sister can keep a servant, entertain friends, or provide a home for an aged mother, or other female relative, or receive a "paying guest." They can leave their little house in the court, and go back to the world if they wish, but no one ever leaves the cloister retreat until death comes, and then they are only borne across the grass-grown court to sleep beneath the shade of the trees in the quiet burial ground.

The little houses bear the names of some saint or of some episode of sacred legend. At the stated hours of prayer the sisters join together in their common worship, and you may see the black-robed figures flitting across the grass to the church.

Even this is not compulsory, but no one ever thinks of failing to attend the daily mass and vespers. Then there are sick folk to visit, the sick people to be cared for, lace-making to be attended to, sewing to be done and children to be educated. All the inmates are unmarried or widows, and in order to be admitted their character must be of the highest. They pay a small sum yearly for their board, and an entrance fee of 500 francs for their house and for the maintenance of the church.

The lives of the sisters are, like their home, very calm and peaceful, but full of varied interest. On entering the sisterhood they have to serve a novitiate of two years. The duty of obedience is enforced and every sister is obliged to obey the grand dame, who is called in that terrible Flemish tongue, "Groot-Juffrouwe." When the two years' novitiate has expired at Ghent, the sisters go to a convent.

Agriculture gives employment to 7,400,000 persons in France, or one-fifth of the population.

TWO MINUTES EIGHT SECONDS.

Ocean View, Cal., July 4.—Bill Squires, the mystery from Australia, lasted only a portion of a round before Tommy Burns, the Canadian heavyweight, this afternoon. A succession of right hand blows to the jaw and the fight was over. The fact that Squires was an unknown quantity had lent interest to the fight, and an immense crowd assembled at Ocean View, outside San Francisco, to witness the contest. Fully nine thousand people were in the arena and paid all the way from $2 to $20 to see a few seconds of fighting. Within ten seconds after the gong had rung for the men to begin, stocky little Burns had swung his right to the Australian's jaw and he went down. It looked then as if the fight was over, but in a few seconds Squires staggered to his feet

ON THE DOCTORS.

HED-PUT HIM TO SLEEP.

Mr. Green-Doc, try as many remedies as I can, I can't put my youngest kid to sleep. What would you advise me to do?"

Dr. Wise-Hire a prize-fighter for a nurse.

The Doctor—The human system requires a certain amount of lime, otherwise the bones don't develop properly. The Joker—I guess that's how the custom of whitewashing politicians originated.

Miss Riley—Oh! Doctor, I'm so nervous! I seem to feel as if there was a man following me wherever I go. Doctor—H'm! I wouldn't worry. Just walk where there is quite a good deal of light and you won't be molested.

Doctor—You must stop drinking whisky, Major, and take one of these pills every hour. Major Bluenose—Gad, Doctor! How am I going to get 'em pills down without taking a swallow of something?

DEAD SURE IT WAS.

Dr. Emdee—I hope the patient's temperature is lower this morning than it was last night. The Nurse—It is; he's dead.

SEARCHED THE YACHT.

Venice, July 4.—The customs authorities at this port recently searched J. Pierpont Morgan's yacht, which is lying in this harbor, the government having been informed that a number of pictures from the Strozz collection were concealed on board. The search, however, was without result. The protests of Mr. Morgan, who was on board at the time, were disregarded.

VERSATILITY OF THE KAISER.

The Kaiser has given his views about street architecture to a Berlin sculptor, who recently received an order for a new statue to be raised in the Tiergarten. According to his majesty, writes a Berlin correspondent, the general appearance of the streets of most modern cities is far too monotonous to be pleasing. The sky line is in most cases far too even. It should be broken up more by irregular roofs.

Nor does he like the modern way of building houses flush with the street. Small gardens in front are often desirable and restful for the eyes. Even the slight elevation of area railings is preferable to the existing gauntties. Architects also should study color and diversify their facades. The Kaiser mentioned two cities as examples of what he would like to see—the Bavarian Nuremberg and the English "Cinemas."

Then, according to the Kaiser, there should be a picturesque extension of the commercial life of a city into its streets. He thinks the police are far too rigorous in this respect. He would like to see traders trading in the public streets. He would, above all, like to see artisans at work in front of their shops, just as they worked in the olden days.

He is also an advocate of drinking fountains in every street and public place, with copious streams of pure water. Nothing enriches a street vista so much as an ornamental drinking fountain. The Kaiser would also like to see an extension of arcades and galleries, the galleries connecting main streets instead of the unpleasant narrow lanes so common in all great modern cities.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba, or the Northwest Provinces, excepting 36 and 38 not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the owner of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less. Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local agent of the Department of the Interior.

An application for entry or inspection made monthly at any Sub-Agent's office may be made to the local agent of the Sub-Agent at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on record of the land grant application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled and the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim.

An applicant for inspection must be a Canadian citizen, and the statement of inspection for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing and not liable to cancellation, may be subject to removal of the land, and relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if unable, by no one else, on filing a declaration of abandonment.

Where an entry is summarily cancelled or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any right of re-entry; should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be summarily cancelled.

DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following: (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the first three years.

(2) If the father for mother, if the father is deceased of a homesteader residing upon the land in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres shall be leased to one individual or company.

At the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined. QUARTZ.—A person, eighteen years of age, or over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,000,100 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5. At least 100 tons must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When 500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 per acre. The patent provided for the payment of a royalty of 25 per cent. on the sales. Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5, renewable yearly. An applicant may obtain two leases in dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior. The lease shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease. The person, eighteen years of age, or over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,000,100 feet.

ROSEBERY'S TRIBUTE TO CECIL RHODES

Lord Rosebery recently unveiled at Oxford a tablet to the memory of Cecil Rhodes and to commemorate the foundation of the Rhodes scholarships. In the course of his address, Lord Rosebery said the character in which most of them honored Cecil Rhodes was that of empire-builder or great Imperialist statesman (cheers) and that was the character with which Oxford had always been accustomed to show itself in the gentlest and warmest sympathy. But it was not of Cecil Rhodes as empire-builder that he wanted to say a few words that day. It was because he combined his motive idea of Empire with his abiding loyalty and affection to his University of Oxford that he spoke of it in his will as "My own University of Oxford," and it was a brilliant and original and inspiring idea which made him combine his Imperial ideas with his affection for the University of Oxford. That idea, that inspiration, cheered and animated the last years of Cecil Rhodes. It was to him a solace and protection. (Cheers.) He very well remembered Rhodes once saying that this idea was his companion. He said, "When I find myself in ungenial company, when people are playing their games, or when I am alone in a railway carriage, I shut by eyes and think of my great idea. I turn it over in my mind and try to get a new light on it. It is the pleasantest companion that I have."

Well, it was not merely a companion to him; it was a solace and it was a protection. There was no man as slandered in his lifetime as was Rhodes. He was represented as a mere blood-thirsty Shylock, a man who would make through any means in order to obtain money, great piles of money that he could spend on his own luxury and comfort. Now there never was a greater lie than that. (Cheers.) No man ever spent less on himself. His life was

The Life of a Spartan.
It was quite true that he valued money, but that was because he valued power and money was one of the most obvious and effectual means of obtaining power, and so in a large way he sought for money as a means of power and also as a means of posthumous power, of carrying out his great ambition after his death. And so he remembered when people sympathized with Rhodes, with the way in which people who should have known better, and who did know better, were throwing every sort of dirt at him, as a low money-grubber and a disgrace to the name of Britain in South Africa. Rhodes said, "All this doesn't worry me in the least. I have my will here—as if he had it in his pocket—"I have my will here, and when they abuse me I think of it and I know they will read that after I am gone, and will do me justice when I am dead." (Cheers.) Surely that was not wrong. When the hour came for him to go many of his slanderers

Must Have Repented.
In tears and dust and ashes while the whole world rendered a willing homage to his tomb. (Cheers.) He was not there to claim that Cecil Rhodes was perfect. No man was. He made great mistakes. No one knew it more quickly or owned it more readily or censured himself more unparaphrasing than he did. He made great mistakes, but he was a great man. He was one of the most eminent of that brilliant company of Ambassadors that the United States had sent over to this country—Mr. Phelps in a speech at the Mansion House, uttered the great truth that a man who never made a mistake never made anything. He knew that Rhodes was a great prime mistake, but no man atoned for it more completely or owned it more fully. (Cheers.)

He admitted that Rhodes had at one time a strong idea of posthumous fame. He remembered arguing with him about it a long time. He used a strong argument. He said that fame was short, and that in the case of but very few people there was no fame to speak of, and even with them it did not last very long. He pointed to the millions of universes in the firmament, in each of which might be millions of insects like ourselves, striving for the same brief and futile hour of fame. But Rhodes would have none of it. He said, "No, I don't agree with you at all. I have given by name to this great region of Rhodesia, and in two or three hundred years my name will still be there, and I shall be remembered."

After two or three centuries what does it matter? So that was Rhodes. Even then it was only a question of degree. The last time he saw Rhodes, when the hour of death was upon him, he found him in very different mood. Rhodes said—"Well, after all, you are right; everything in this world is too short—life and fame and achievement; everything is too short," and he gave a groan as he thought of his own career and his own ambitions cut short. Perhaps he and I were both wrong. I thought his fame will survive his own anticipations and mine also. (Cheers.) He has dug deep, he has dug broad the foundations of his own reputation in South Africa, that region of perplexity, which will at any rate remain for all time a monument of British generosity, and I hope of British wisdom.

A hoard of gold and silver coins, bearing dates of about fifty years ago, amounting to about $250, has been found near Aughacloy, Co. Tyrone. The money was hidden in an old well beside the house, which has been the property of one family for some generations.

Two Children's Mattresses Have Been Arranged for To-Morrow.

There will be two 10c children's mattresses at the New Grand to-morrow afternoon, the doors being open at 2 o'clock, the first performance starting promptly at 2.30, and the second at 4.30. The immense business throughout the week and the certainty of a big rush of children to see the dog and cat circus, the Briggs children and the "Wonder Food" act, has led Mr. Jamieson to arrange these two performances in order that none of the little ones may be disappointed, but will be sure of finding seats in either the first or second show.

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Arrangements have been made by which the representative of the Pickwick studios, now displaying the line of hand painted china in the store of Shakespeares, the Government street jeweler, will remain in Victoria with this line until Saturday night, July 6th. This will be your last chance to see the largest and most beautiful display of china painted by hand that has ever been shown in Canada.

SEEKING HOME HERE.

Visitor From Australia Is Anxious to Reside in Victoria.

E. F. Moncrieff Scott, for the last nine years inspector of stock for Queensland, Australia, is spending a week in the city, a guest at the Dominion hotel. Mr. Scott arrived in the city yesterday, and comes for the express purpose of looking round with a view to purchasing a home for himself and family in the city.
Mr. Scott is greatly pleased with what he has already seen of Victoria, and, in his opinion, it is unexcelled as a residential city. He was most favorably struck with the architectural beauty of the parliament buildings and post office, and states that they are equal to anything in Melbourne.
Although an Englishman by birth, he comes to Victoria to seek a home in preference to England. In his own words, "Victoria is the most English-looking city I have seen since I left England." Mr. Scott states that Victoria is very little known in Australia, a fact which is greatly to be deplored, as he believes if it were more widely advertised large numbers of the wealthy people would be influenced to visit the city. Should he be successful in obtaining a home in the city, Mr. Scott intends to return with his family to make this his permanent home.

MILLIONAIRES' HOUSES.

In New York the Builders Often Do Not Live in Them.

The news that the houses of the late James Henry Smith is to be sold by executors will remind New Yorkers how short is the occupancy of most of the costly great houses which successful men buy or build as the visible symbol of their wealth.

The Smith house was built for Mrs. Robert L. Stuart, whose husband died before it was completed. His executors sold it to Amzi L. Barber, whose ownership lasted two years. William C. Whitney had scarcely moved in after an elaborate remodeling of the place with marbles from Italy and a ballroom brought bodily from France, when his death closed it again. After long delay it was bought by Mr. Smith, who died a little later. In twelve years it has been actually used but a few months.

The statue is never occupied by its owner. Mr. Schwab is said to have tired of his beautiful French Renaissance chateau on Riverside Drive, which stood so long half finished. The senior Cornelius Vanderbilt lived but a short time in his house on the Fifty-seventh street corner of Fifth avenue after it was enlarged and adorned at a cost of several millions. W. K. Vanderbilt's beautiful house, designed by Mr. Hunt, was soon after its completion, closed by family troubles.

A. T. Stewart built the finest private house in America and never had in it a day of health. The house itself has vanished. Senator Clark, of Montana, has disfigured an interesting street with a preposterous nightmare of a house which will probably be fatal to his repose here. Mr. Carnegie is indeed the only one of the most often mentioned great houses of New York that has not some sad memories.

On the other hand, the more modest city homes of Mr. Morgan, Mr. Rockefeller and Miss Gould, have been happy in having no recent history.—New York World.

COMBAT WITH A PYTHON.

While a Mr. Cocklin was walking in thick grass near the Mirao River, Bechuanaland, he was thrown to the ground by a fourteen-foot python, which coiled round his legs, and then tried to drag him to a tree near by, so that, by coiling its tail round the trunk, it might proceed to crush him to death. When within two yards of the tree, Mr. Cocklin got a hand free, and shot the snake, which was so heavy that it needed three men to lift it.

STREETS TO BE BOULEVARDED

FIRST WORK OF THE PARKS COMMISSION

Poles Will Be Removed and Neglected Areas Will Be Put in Shape.

The first step toward the beautification of the city by extensive boulevarding work has already been taken by the new board of parks commissioners which, at its meeting yesterday, adopted a report from the boulevard committee recommending that work be commenced upon a number of streets as soon as the preliminary by-law can be prepared and passed by the city council. The board intends to expedite the work and expects to have the first of the streets laid and planted by August. Stringent regulations will be made to ensure the protection of the boulevard and the companies having electric light and telephone poles situated on the boulevards will be required to remove them immediately. The names of the streets which will receive attention at once are given in the list printed below. Both lists have been turned over to the city engineer and assessor for a report, and will be placed in the form of a by-law as early as possible.

Many of the streets, the names of which are contained in these lists, have been previously boulevarded, but through faulty construction and general neglect are now in such a poor condition that the work will have to be done over again. The construction of the boulevards, apart from laying curbs and sidewalks, will cost, according to the committee, about $25 for a frontage of 40 feet, and the expenditure will be covered by a frontage tax; the work being done upon the local improvement plan. A number of the streets which are to be boulevarded have already been passed upon by the council, but for several reasons the work has not yet been done. There are also several streets to be re-boulevarded, as the sodding and other preliminary-work which was done upon them have to be torn up to allow of the construction of practical and permanent boulevards.

The streets which will be included in the first boulevarding by-law to be prepared upon the recommendation of the board are as follows:
Clarence street, from Simcoe to Niagara, both sides.
Dunedin street, from George to Douglas, both sides.
Hurd street, from Cadboro Bay road to Pandora street.

Elliott street, from Government to Douglas, south side.
Government street, from Michigan to Toronto, both sides.
Linden avenue, from Cadboro Bay road to Belcher, both sides.
Richmond avenue, from Oak Bay road to Cadboro Bay road, both sides.
South Turner street, from Simcoe street to Dallas Road, both sides.
Yates street, from Fernwood road to Harrison street, both sides.
The following streets will also be boulevarded in the near future, the committee having prepared the list in order to give the park commissioners a clear view of the early work that lies before them.

Hillside avenue, from Bridge street to Government, south side.
McLennan street, from Simcoe street to Niagara street, both sides.
Michigan street, from Government street to Douglas street, south side.
Ormond street, from Yates street to Cadboro Bay road, both sides.
Rockland avenue, both sides.
Superior street, from Government street to Douglas street, north side.
Burdette avenue, from Blanchard avenue to Vancouver street, both sides.
Linden avenue, from Belcher avenue to Fairfield road, both sides.
Rupert street, from Humboldt street to Beacon Hill park, both sides.
Third street, from Ray street to Queen's avenue, both sides.

The discussion upon the reports of the boulevards and regulations committee occupied most of the board's time at yesterday session. The latter report recommended the adoption of certain regulations to enable the board to control the public works. These regulations were introduced at last Monday's meeting of the council in the parks by-law, which was read a first time and laid over to await the acceptance of the regulations by the commissioners. A list of these regulations will be found in the Times of Tuesday's date. The consideration of the list resulted in one change being made. This was in regard to allowing dogs in the park when accompanied by their owners or guardians. After a short discussion on this clause the commissioners decided that dogs should not be allowed in the park except upon the condition that they were held in leash. It was pointed out that allowing dogs to have a free run of the park generally resulted in damage being done to flower beds, and was also the cause of considerable trouble to children. The by-law containing the regulations, as amended, was read three times and laid over for final consideration and passing.

An interesting point was raised by Chairman Arbutnot during the discussion on boulevarding in regard to the payment of frontage taxes on this work. The practice in Victoria has been to make the tax payable in ten years; but Mr. Arbutnot stated that it had been found more advisable in other cities to spread these payments over a period of thirty years. The committee decided to pay the whole assessment on his frontage in one sum if he wished to, or could extend his payments over a period of thirty years. This plan had encouraged many people who might not otherwise ask for boulevarding to petition for them as the payment of the frontage tax was not, under the conditions referred to, any hardship.

Mayor Morley brought up the matter of holding band concerts in Beacon Hill park during the summer. Many people went out to the park on Sunday last, he said, and were disappointed when the concert did not materialize. The contract between the city and the band had not been observed in consequence of a labor dispute among the musicians. The contract called for 25 concerts during the year, eleven of them to be given in the park, and for the purpose of paying for these concerts the extra appropriation of $500 which had been made for the park committee to pay the cost of the park concerts should come into the hands of the board as successor to the defunct body.

A resolution was passed requesting the city council to make the committee's hand appropriation available for the use of the board. The arrangements with the band were left in the hands of the Mayor, who stated that he hoped to come to an understanding with the bandmaster to commence the concerts on Sunday next. It was also decided to ask the council to pass a resolution requiring all companies having guy wires attached to trees in the city to remove the same. The regulations of the board will cover the future conduct of the companies, but a resolution and order from the city council is necessary to affect anything which was done before the appointment of the commissioners. Those present at yesterday afternoon's meeting were: Chairman John Arbutnot, Commissioners Wilkerson, Pemberton, Nelson and Mayor Morley, and Clerk of the Board Wellington J. Dowler.

CURIOUS SUPERSTITION.

In a Black Country village a man committed suicide by hanging himself. He was found by several people suspected by a rope, but not one of them would cut him down, owing to the superstition that anyone who did so would afterwards experience great trouble. The body was eventually taken down by a policeman.

Call to Presbyterian Church
There.

Rev. R. J. Douglas, who has been pastor of Knox church in Trail for the past three years, has accepted a call from the Presbyterian church at Chilliwack and will leave for that place tomorrow, says Tuesday's Rossland Miner. Rev. Mr. Douglas, during his pastorate in Trail, has made many warm friends. On Thursday evening last he was presented with a handsome silver tea set and cut glass fruit dish, accompanied by a beautifully worded address, by his brothers in the Knights of Pythias lodge. On Friday night the members of Fidelity lodge, A. F. & A. M., as a token of the high esteem in which they hold him, presented him with a handsome signet ring and a purse of gold.

VANCOUVER NOTES.

Alexander Abercrombie Succumbed to His Injuries—Auto Smashed 80637.

Alexander Abercrombie, a millwright, who was injured on Wednesday morning at the Royal City mills, having been caught in the belt of the edge machine and dragged round the shafting a number of times, died in the hospital on Wednesday night.

Carelessness in auto speeding Tuesday evening resulted in an accident to John McLean, which might easily have had fatal results. Mr. McLean was sitting in his buggy, which was drawn up alongside the road near Brockton Point, when three automobiles came running abreast at a high speed. The outside machine collided with Mr. McLean's buggy, smashing it badly, while he himself was thrown into the air and landed on his head and shoulders on the road where the horse was standing. Mrs. McLean had stepped out of the buggy shortly before the collision, and fortunately the horse did not move. The auto swept on unheeding, but a bystander caught the number.

To no one were the heavy rains that fell Wednesday more pleasing than to Chief Fire Warden G. D. McKay, as it not only extinguished fires already burning, but it also removed the danger of new fires springing up for some time to come at least, says the News-Advertiser. When the rain began there were two rather big bush fires burning in the vicinity of Vancouver. One was near the mouth of the Capilano, and was started by two boys from the city. It destroyed a shack and a wagon left there by some Japanese who had been working in the bush. The boys were seen by some Chinamen, but got away before they could be identified. A second fire near the junction of Westminster and Wilson roads had started up from the remains of the old fire which recently raged there. It looked rather serious before the rain, but all danger from it is happily now over.

Scarcity of raw material is causing serious difficulties in the meerschaum pipe and cigar holder industry in Germany and Austria. Asia Minor is one of the chief sources of supply.

MARY ANN'S CENTURY.

Mary Ann McManus made her hundredth appearance at Preston Police court recently charged with being drunk and disorderly. She pleaded hard to be sent to a home, but the magistrates sent her to goal for six months.

No receipt has been made strong enough to resist the burning power of freezing water. Twenty-pound steel shells have been sent around as though made of pottery.

A SMART EFFECT IN SUMMER MILLINERY.

Mushroom hats will be more popular than ever this summer, and no expense is spared in trimming them with exquisite "French roses," etc. The pattern hat, from which the above drawing was made, was a white Neapolitan straw in mushroom shape, adorned with ribbon of the softest green shade, fixed in loops on the left side and brought around the crown, and finished with a bunch of roses in deep cream coloring, which are allowed to droop over the right side.

A MURDERER AT SEVENTY.

Old Man Gilted by Betrothed Killed Her With Revolver.

A widower, nearly seventy years of age, with two married daughters, has been accused by the Sene-Astres Court, Paris, for the murder of a woman half a century old.

The two daughters and their husbands, thinking that the old man was leading a lonely life, looked out for an eligible wife for him, and their choice fell on the woman, who appeared to have considered him a very good match. The couple were formerly engaged, and all went well for several months, the bridegroom-elect being extremely generous in his presents to his betrothed. The trouble came when the bride began to dawn upon the woman that the old man was by no means as well off as she had been led to understand, and she gave him up. But the widower was in no mood to put up with this desertion. The presents had cost him a great deal of money, and he considered that he had been deceived.

Taking a revolver, he proceeded to the house of the woman, and after a lot of altercation he fired three shots and killed her. At the trial he said that he had not realized what he was doing. His counsel backed him by representing him as a poor old man for whom his children had wished to find a happy home, but who had been basely tricked. And as a result of all of this special pleading the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED VICTIMS.

Six Months' Record of Automobile Accidents in Germany—Fifty-one Persons Killed.

An accurate record of motor accidents and their causes is kept in Germany, and an analysis of the statistics shows that during the half-year ended September 30th last, there were 2,290 automobile accidents in Germany, of which 674 caused injury to persons.

The number of persons killed and wounded amounted to 1,570. Fifty-one were killed. Of the latter, nine were chauffeurs, nine passengers of the automobiles, and 33 other persons.

In 1924 cases, the cause of the accident was determined, and in 488 of these too rapid running or failure to give the alarm signal was given as the cause. In other cases 220 were caused by skidding, 26 through disregard of stop signals, 53 through failure of brakes, 174 through lack of proper precaution on the part of persons on the streets or roads, 48 through slippery pavements, 29 through breakage of parts of the machine, and five through explosions. Suits were brought in the courts in 695 cases, and of these 629 were against chauffeurs.

On January 1 there were 27,025 automobiles, including motor cycles, in Germany. Of this total 1,211 automobiles were used for drayage and similar purposes, and of the remaining 25,815 machines 15,790 were motor cycles, and only 10,115 automobiles in the usual sense. More than half of the latter were of eight horse-power.

In the city of Berlin there are 2,408 automobiles of all kinds. Of the total above given 10,257 machines are used for sport and pleasure, and 16,559 for commercial purposes.

ANCIENT COIN.

Believed to be a shekel of King Solomon's time, a coin has been found by a Mashona among the ruins of Great Zimbabwe, Rhodesia. The inscriptions are in Hebrew. On one side are the words "Holy Jerusalem" and the other "Solomon's Temple" and an incense burner.

An acre of rich land in the parts of Central America suitable for raising that fruit will yield about 35,000 bananas in a year.

CHARMED WITH THE CITY OF VICTORIA

Visitor Laments Fact That He Will Not Be Able to Stay Longer.

Mrs. Bloomfield, 31 Henry street, 35 order on the Patterson Shoe Co. Mrs. Adamson, 31 Henry street, 34 order on Henry Young & Co. Mrs. Brown, 36 Rock Bay avenue, 33 order on the Standard Stationery Co. Miss Aubin, 76 John street, 35 order on Terry & Martell's drug store.

The above were called upon by the Golden West soap man last night. Every night he strikes a new district, and the longer he stays in Victoria the better he likes the pretty city; his one regret is that his stay is to be only two or three months. However, before he leaves he will have distributed many hundreds of dollars among the ladies of Victoria.

Last night, as usual, the Golden West soap man was out distributing his prizes. The route chosen lay towards Rock Bay. Mrs. Brown was at home and cordially invited the soap man to come in, while she went to the pantry for the necessary blue and gold packages of soap. This was his first stop, and his good luck stayed with him during the entire trip. After assuring the soap man that she was a steady user of Golden West soap, the 31 order was given away.

The next stop was made at 76 John street, the pretty home of Miss Aubin. The Golden West soap man was lucky again, as the lady had soap in abundance in the house, and an order placed with her for washing powder. The 31 order on Terry & Martell's drug store was left.

Mrs. Adamson, of No. 31 Henry street, came next. She proved an old customer, and was given the 31 on the dry goods house of Henry Young & Co.

With only the 31 order on the Patterson Shoe Co. left, Mrs. Bloomfield was called on and produced the necessary brand of soap. If winners do not wish to utilize the orders they receive they can give them to one of their friends. But all of the Golden West soap orders are appreciated for the simple reason they are given on Victoria's leading merchants, who are specialists in their line of business.

The orders for to-night are as follows: 31 on the Patterson Shoe Co. 31 on Messrs. Henry Young & Co. 31 on Terry & Martell's drug store. 31 on the Standard Stationery Co.

The soap man reminds the readers that Golden West washing powder can now be got in 3-pound packages at 25c. from grocers. "Remember this," he says.

PERSONAL.

Miss Grace Redgrave, daughter of S. L. Redgrave, 5 Frederic street, will leave this evening on an extended trip to the East. Miss Redgrave will be accompanied by Mrs. Landsberg, and will travel by way of Chicago, Detroit, Norfolk, Virginia, Geneva, N. Y., and Washington, D. C., paying visits to friends in each of these cities. In New York city Miss Redgrave will visit her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Foote, and she expects to be absent from Victoria for a year.

A. G. MacIntosh, who has been a resident of Victoria for several years, leaves to-morrow for Vancouver, where he will embark in the commission business.

NUMEROUS AIDS TO NAVIGATION

MARINE DEPARTMENT MARKING CHANNELS

British Columbia Coast Will Be One of Best Equipped in the World.

As time goes on it is becoming more evident every day that the waterways along the coast of British Columbia will be among the best provided with aids to navigation in any part of the world. The light-house board of Canada is leaving no stone unturned to locate every rock which even in the smallest respect is a menace to navigation. Week by week notice of new aids to navigation are forthcoming and the recent selection of sites along the coast for the installation of the wireless system is suggestive of all that human enterprise can do to combat dangers at sea in now being done by the Dominion government on the seaboard. The latest list of aids which have come to hand deal in large measure with the waterways which surround Vancouver Island and is as follows:

The light heretofore shown from a 31-day Wigham lamp on Danger Reef, Stuart channel, has been replaced by a gas-light shown from a beacon erected on the same site. The wooden tower has been taken down. The beacon consists of a steel cylindrical tank standing on a steel framework, and surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern, the whole painted red. The light is a white light, automatically occulted at short intervals. It is elevated 35 feet above high water mark, and should be visible 9 miles from all points of approach. The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically. The light is unwatched.

A gas-lighted beacon has been established on Joan point, Dodd narrows, Vancouver Island. Latitude north, 49 degrees, 7 minutes, 52 seconds; longitude west, 123 degrees, 49 minutes, 2 seconds. The beacon consists of a steel cylindrical tank standing on a steel framework, and surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern, the whole painted red. The light is a white light, automatically occulted at short intervals. It is elevated 35 feet above high water mark, and should be visible 9 miles from all points of approach. The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically. The light is unwatched.

A gas-lighted beacon has been established on the summit of the southwest point of the West rocks, Horseshoe channel, east coast of Vancouver Island. Latitude north, 49 degrees, 13 minutes, 16 seconds; longitude west, 123 degrees, 55 minutes, 37 seconds. The beacon consists of a steel cylindrical tank standing on a steel framework, and surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern, the whole painted red. The light is a white light, automatically occulted at short intervals. It is elevated 35 feet above high water mark, and should be visible 9 miles from all points of approach. The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically. The light is unwatched.

The light shown from Barrett rock (called Bird rock in notice to Mariners No. 158 (391), 1906 eastern side of entrance to Prince Rupert harbor, has been changed from an occulting white light to an occulting red light. Lat. N. 54 deg., 14 min., 23 sec.; long. W. 130 deg., 20 min., 35 sec.

TO BRING NEW VESSEL.

Capt. Gibb Leaves for Old Country to Take Command of the Miram.

Captain Gibb, who brought the Canadian-Australian liner Moana to this port yesterday, has relinquished command of that vessel and is proceeding direct to the Old Country to take command of the Miram, the new steamer for the company. He is accompanied by A. E. Barlow, who will act as his chief officer on the Miram, having been heretofore chief officer on the Moana. On the Moana, Captain Gibb has been replaced by Captain Hemmings, who has been in Vancouver for some time awaiting the arrival of the Moana. Second Officer H. O. Jones is being made first officer, and Third Officer W. Lindsay has been promoted to second officer on the Moana. The Miram, the construction of which was already mentioned in the Times, is a vessel of 6,500 tons, and is capable of steaming 18 knots. She will be placed on the Victoria-Sydney run. Another vessel for the Canadian-Australian line is also on the stocks at the Clyde shipbuilding yards.

The first examination of those who wish to obtain certificates in swimming, in connection with the swimming school in this city will be held at the Gorge to-morrow morning. The girls' class is timed for 10 a. m., and the boys' at 11 a. m.

mark, and should be visible 10 miles. The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically. The light is unwatched. A gas-lighted beacon has been established on the west end and highest part of Greentop Island, Chatham sound. Latitude north, 54 degrees, 10 minutes, 52 seconds; longitude west, 130 degrees, 24 minutes, 51 seconds. The beacon consists of a steel cylindrical tank standing on a steel framework, and surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern, the whole painted red. The light is a white light, automatically occulted at short intervals. It is elevated 35 feet above high water mark, and should be visible 11 miles from all points of approach. The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically. The light is unwatched.

Capt. McDonald (who is employed by the Mosquito Harbor Sawmill Company) reports the existence of the following uncharted rocks and islets in Tofofo Inlet; the positions given are approximate:

1. A rock, which dries at half tide, 4 1/2 cables south, 18 degrees west from Plover Island.
2. A rock, which dries at half tide, 3 cables south, 42 degrees west from Plover Island.
3. A rocky patch, about 1 cable wide, extending from the islet shown in Gunner harbor, north of the anchorage, to the point 2 cables north of the islet.
4. A rock, which dries 4 feet, 1 cable south, 31 degrees east from the islet in Gunner harbor mentioned in No. 2.
5. An islet, one-fifth mile south, 1 degree west from the southwest extremity of Granite Island.
6. A rock, which dries at half tide, 2 1/2 cables south, 6 degrees west from the southwest extremity of Granite Island, or 3 cables south, 27 degrees west from the islet described in No. 5.

Information received 27th April, 1907, has been received by the British Admiralty from Captain F. C. Learmonth, H. M. surveying vessel Egeria, respecting the undermentioned danger and islands in Dixon entrance, Port Simpson approach:

1. A low-lying rock, which appeared to have a depth of about 6 feet over it, is situated in a position from which East Devil rock bears north 12 degrees east, distant 7 miles, and Barren Island centre north 55 degrees west, and was observed to be breaking in a comparatively smooth sea. There are at a distance of one mile depths of over 20 fathoms northward and 15 fathoms northward from it. Vessels are warned against passing to the eastward of this rock or between it and Zayas Island until this passage has been examined. Approximate position on chart No. 2458, latitude 54 degrees, 35 minutes north, longitude 131 degrees, 12 minutes west.

2. White Islands are a group of wooded islands, extending about one mile from the northwestern extremity of North Dundas Island, with foul ground between. The northernmost island is situated approximately about 5 1/2 miles south 80 degrees west from Table hill summit.

3. Zayas Island. This island is about 3 miles long in a northerly and southerly direction and 2 miles broad; the summit, which is near the southern end, is flat topped, and 250 feet above high water; the northwestern extremity of the island, a low wooded point, is situated at a distance of about 11 miles south 69 degrees west from Table hill summit. Dry ledges extend for about half a mile from this point. There are several rocks, 20 feet above high water, situated off the southern extremity of Zayas Island. The position of this island appears to differ considerably from that shown on the chart. Approximate position, Table hill, latitude 54 degrees, 34 1/2 minutes north; longitude 130 degrees, 46 1/2 minutes west.

A fog alarm, consisting of a diaphone, operated with air compressed by an oil engine, has been established at the Island light station, Queen Charlotte Sound. The diaphone will give, during thick or foggy weather, one blast of seven seconds duration every two minutes. The fog alarm building stands 200 feet northwest of the lighthouse and is a rectangular wooden building, painted white with the roof red.

The red spar buoy heretofore marking Ellinor rock, near the entrance to Prince Rupert harbor, Chatham Sound, has been replaced by a gas buoy, moored in 7 fathoms water, close southward of the rock, lat. N. 54 degrees, 12 minutes, 19 seconds; long. W. 130 degrees, 22 minutes, 28 seconds. The buoy is of steel, cylindrical, painted red, surmounted by a pyramidal steel frame supporting a lantern. The light is a red light, automatically occulted at short intervals.

The illuminant is acetylene, generated automatically.

The coast island range gas beacons, on Coast Island and Ridley Island, respectively, at the entrance to Prince Rupert harbor, and described in notice to mariners No. 158 (392) of 1906) have been changed in color from red to white.

The light shown from Barrett rock (called Bird rock in notice to Mariners No. 158 (391), 1906 eastern side of entrance to Prince Rupert harbor, has been changed from an occulting white light to an occulting red light. Lat. N. 54 deg., 14 min., 23 sec.; long. W. 130 deg., 20 min., 35 sec.
